

Media Contact:
Nina Laramore
Laramore Communications
Voice: 707.546.7525
E-mail: ninalaramore@earthlink.net

For Immediate Release

Family Diversity Celebrated with Adventure Packages at Sonoma County's Creekside Inn and Resort

Guerneville, Calif., June 24, 2004 – Families of all types are being welcomed at Creekside Inn and Resort in Guerneville with adventure packages that provide fun activities for families from the traditional to the contemporary family that might include single mother, double father, grandparent and child, and human and dog.

Family adventures include charming accommodations among the redwoods at the Creekside Inn and Resort. Each family chooses their own adventures from a list of options that includes kayaking or canoeing on the glorious Russian River, horseback riding among the majestic redwoods at Armstrong Redwood State Preserve or a pee wee golf and an ice cream soda outing. The inn provides information and arrangements to all the family friendly interactive museums, farms and experiences in the area. Family massage packages can also be arranged.

Human and dog families can enjoy outdoor hikes, canoeing, massage and grooming discounts and information on the many Sonoma County dog friendly venues including dog parks, leash-free beaches, dog-friendly restaurants (some with special dog menus), dog bakeries, a shop with dog ice cream, dog-friendly parks and dog boutiques. Dog day care can also be arranged for those times family members want to spend fun time apart.

“The Russian River resort area has been a popular family destination since the 1940s. The definition of family has been gloriously expanded since then but at Creekside Inn and Resort we still offer all the things that make a family vacation memorable and affordable,” says Lynn Crescione, owner/innkeeper.

The 17 room family operated inn and cottages are located in Sonoma County's Russian River Valley. Complete information is available at www.creeksideinn.com and a brochure for the inn may be requested by calling 707.869.3623 or by sending an email request to info@creeksideinn.com.

###